

High School Students!

Test your smarts in the Delaware Brain Bee
The coolest bee around!

It is like a spelling bee, but you are tested on your knowledge of the brain.

The winner gets an expense paid trip to the National Brain Bee competition.

You are not required to take a course, just register and study the free “Brain Facts” guide and downloadable materials available on the web.

The competition day is Saturday, February 18th, 2017 from 9 am – 1 pm at Delaware State University.

We will also have fun demos and illusions to give you an insight into the workings of your brain.

You can also email:

Murali Temburni, PhD
Neuroscience Program,
Delaware State University
mteburni@desu.edu

